One of the most widely debated subjects of women's clubs is whether it is proper for a married woman to use her maiden name in conjunction "It's a crude corn sugar." with her husband's name.

Asked for an opinion, the Prussian minister of justice, Dr. Am Zehmhoff, replied that he saw no objection to the use of both names provided that the husband did not raise a fuss and that the maiden name was of business or profes-sional value to a woman after mar-riage. Dr. Zehmhoff, however, did not broach the subject of a mar-

Another effort to report out the 125-year-old French spoilation claims bill failed yesterday when the Senate claims committee divided four to four on the subject. The effort will be renewed Tuesday, when a full meeting of the committee is expected.

The bill would allow certain claims to individuals, corporations and insurance companies for indemnity for spoilations by the French navy against private American ships prior to July 31, 1801.

Children from Passaic, N. J., mills who were designated to "picket" the White House to call the attention of official Washington to the situation there came here yesterday. They were underfed and undernourished.

They had no real complaint to make. All they desired was to let it be known that they, as children of striking millworkers, wanted something to eat. The merits of the strike can not be analyzed from this point. There is every possibility that the strikers are in the wrong, just as there is the same suggestion that the mill owners are the opperssors they have been held up to being. But there was no question that the entire sympathy of all of the people who saw this nondescript group of children was with them.

FARM LEGISLATION.

The Senate committee on agriculture has reported the Haugen bill, which has passed the House, creating a division of cooperative marketing in the Department of Agriculture, and providing for the gathering and dissemination of information pertaining to cooperation, and authorizing cooperative associations to acquire, interpret and disseminate crop and market information.

To this bill the Senate committee has added many important provisions more nearly meet ing the requirements and demands of the agricultural associations, and particularly those located in what is called the corn belt.

The Senate additions to the Haugen cooperative bill contemplate control of farm crops so as to stabilize their markets, to minimize speculation and waste in marketing, and to protect domestic markets against world prices by controlling and disposing of sur-

The revised Senate bill provides for a Federal farm advisory council of five from each Federal land-bank district, to be elected by farm organizations. The council is to nominate to the President three individuals from each of the districts, from whom the President is to select one from each district, to comprise the Federal farm board, with the advice and consent of the Senate; the Secretary of Agriculture being one member ex of-

The main duty of the board is to ascertain the probable existence of a surplus of any basic agricultural commodity or any of its food products, basic commodities being cotton, wheat, corn, cattle and swine. The board is to work through cooperative associations or on its own initiative.

Producers of these basic commodities are to pay into the board an equalizing fee to be determined by the board; but as to corn and cotton no fee is to be paid prior to three years from the date of the passage of the act; and not then until "specifically authorized by an act of Congress."

An equalization fund is to be established from which the advances to the growers of basic commodities are to be made; and in anticipation of the collection of the fees the board may advance money or payments out of a "revolving fund" of $250,000,000 provided by the Treasury.

A similar bill is to be reported from the House agriculture committee.

The debate on this bill should bring out valuable facts and dispel many economic illusions. The average citizen is eager to know how the United States can virtually encourage overproduction and then sell the surplus "abroad." If it can work this miracle in regard to farm products, why not also in manufactured products?

Europe is different. Her "yes' men" are called kings.

"MOST INEFFICIENT GOVERNMENT." It is almost impossible to conceive of a man like Richard F. Cleveland, Baltimore attorney and son of the late President Cleveland, mak ing such a statement as that attributed to him in an address before the Women's Civic league. The report of his speech quotes him as say ing that "the American forefathers deliberately chose a form of government which has resulted in the most inefficient government in the entire world."

The greatest weakness in the American system of government, he says, lies in the lack of connection between the legislative body and the executive and the curtailment of the power of the latter. Mr. Cleveland is reported to have said that "it was a fear of government by collusion that led our forefathers to accept a government of confusion. They were endeavoring to get away from the powerful executive authority which executives in England, France and Germany exercised at that time and which caused many to come to America in search of political freedom. And so they deviated from the European form of government and created an executive with too little authority and too short a term of office and with no connection with the legislative, body. This system of government is based upon one important and indispensable thing-a tremendous interest of the people in the vote and government. But the people have not supplied this, which is the principal ingredient. This often has resulted in crooks and thugs being elected to executive

Mr. Cleveland, a son of the first Democratic President elected after the civil war, is not helping the cause of the Democratic party in making such a statement. President Cleve land is regarded by historians and by many members of his party as one of the great exofth Congress, to be sure, but he had great weight with his party and with the individual members thereof, so much indeed that he was three times nominated and twice elected. When he went out of office no member of the party was more highly honored, and had it not been for the prejudice against a third term for any President, it is not unlikely that he would have been nominated again.

Democrats in Congress today are not slow to executive in legislative matters. There are necessarily some weaknesses in every form of government, but to say that the American government is "the most inefficient in the world" is giving utterance to a statement that will be quickly challenged.

In the spring a young man's fancy fondly turns out schemes to loaf.

THE ANNUITY PROBLEM.

Secretary Work has recommended in a letter to Senator Stanfield, chairman of the Senate committee on civil service, sponsor of the proposed amendment to the Federal employes' retirement law, that the maximum annuity of $1,200 fixed in the bill be lowered to $960. He also favors compulsory retirement at 70 years and optional retirement for all classes at 65. Another recommendation made by Secretary Work is that the contribution to the retirement fund made by employes be held to 1/2 per cent of their salaries instead of the 4 cent provided in the bill, and as against the 21/2 per cent under existing law.

Doubtless the members of the Senate committee and also some of the senators who will have to vote on the bill will be influenced by the Secretary's recommendations. He is speaking for the administration and doubtless voicing the views of the President.

The employes, of course, will not be satisied with the proposed maximum annuity of $960. In order to be entitled to the $960 an employe must have received over a period of fifteen years before retirement an annual salary of at least $1,800. Of the 355,000 employes out of the approximately 500,000 on the government pay roll who would be eligible to etirement, the average salary is far less than $1,800 a year. It does not exceed $1,200 and the annuity that the average employe would be entitled to under the terms of the bill recommended by Secretary Work would be about $700. It is needless to say that this is not a sufficient sum to enable any one to live on. It would mean bare existence.

The statement has been repeatedly made hat the employes are not only willing but anxious to increase their contributions if they can be assured of a greater annuity when the time comes for them to quit the government service. This certainly should be their privilege. The members of Congress should give full and serious consideration to the proposal of the employes. They are a part of the government. If they are willing to finance the major portion of the annuity fund, the government can well afford to finance the balance, so that all retired employes will receive $1,200 a year. It can be done, with a saving to the govern-If it is not done, Congress will have merely shirked its plain duty.

A true highbrow is one who won't read the comics where anybody can see him.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC CASE.

Most of the transcontinental railroads in this country were aided and promoted by land grants from the general government. At the time, these grants, many of them liberal in the extreme, were criticized; but it is now pretty generally conceded that the railroads so necessary to bind the West to the East and unify the country would never have been built had not these land grants been approved by Congress. They played an important part in the drama of saving the Union.

The controversy over the land grant to the Northern Pacific railroad is attracting considerable attention. The railroad claims 2,600, 000 acres of national forest. The government claims the railroad is indebted to the United States for failure to fulfill the contract. It is charged that the railroad did not complete its mileage in the time limit, used some of the proceeds of sales of stock and land to pay promoters, and mortgaged the property in violation of the agreement with the government.

There's now a car to every five people, which should limit each driver to four pedestrians.

CITIZEN TRAINING CAMPS.

The District commissioners have issued an appeal to the young men of Washington to attend the citizens' military training camps in the Third corps area this summer. In a letter to Lieut. Col. John Scott, executive officer of the Washington units of the organized reserve of the army, the commissioners agree that these camps have proved to be most important factors for the development of physical soundness, character building, increased dependability, initiative and leadership. District heads hope that all young men of the District who are eligible to attend will take advantage of the opportunity afforded them and that this year's quota, as in the past, will be

The benefits to come from 30 days' training at a military camp have been fully demonstrated. More than 30,000 young men who attended the camps last year gained in weight and in chest measurement.

Not the least advantage that comes from service in a military training camp, however, is the discipline that is instilled. The boys have to submit to the rigorous life of the soldier. It teaches them obedience and punctuality, and respect for authority. It is, in truth, the best school in character building that can be had. Parents should encourage their boys to take advantage of the opportunity that the government offers them. It will make them better citizens and better men physically, Washington should not be behind other cities n its representation this year.

Drama is one act showing what killed State rights. Chorus of States, to Congress: "Help!"

A STIMULUS IN HORSE BREEDING.

Despite the fact that the horse has been banshed from the principal thoroughfares of most large cities, an occasional horsedrawn vehicle can be seen on some of the side streets. Here in Washington, for instance, if one uses his eyes he can see a dilapidated wagon whose motor power is a horse, and once in a while an old-fashioned landau may be observed with a pair of well groomed high stepping hackneys. This is interesting in view of a statement re cently issued by the bureau of the census which shows that although the production of horses on tarms decreased from January 1. 1925, about 5 per cent, leaving the total at 15,778,000, there has lately been a pronounced movement on the part of farmers to breed more horses. This is due to the fact that the express opinions about the interference of the price of horses, in spite of their disuse in the cities, has been increasing. On the farms the total number of horses and mules at this time, according to the census figures, is 22,266,367. as against 21,558,000 on January 1, 1925. This does not include horses and mules in nonagricultural work. Of this latter class the Department of Agriculture estimates there are nearly 2,000,000 head, but no accurate statistics are obtainable.

In nearly all the central States the farm value of horses is higher than last year; in the South and some of the Western States it is slightly less.

Most good horsemen are good farmers. They realize the value of well-bred animals, just as they know that a better quality of wheat or corn has a higher market value than poor grain, and they strive therefore to raise the best possible.

There is an increasing demand for good work horses on the farms notwithstanding the increased use of tractors. Indeed, there are not enough good animals to take care of the actual needs of farm work in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, normally surplus producing States. They must be supplied, the census bureau says, as they were 25 years ago, from the ranges of the West, and in conse quence there has been increased activity among the dealers in range horses in the Western

If they browbeat servants or speak timidly to them, they have had their wealth less than two years.

WHAT IS A DEMOCRAT?

Through the courtesy of "Tom" Heffin, sen ator from Alabama, the country can learn what constitutes the peculiar qualifications which will entitle a man, or woman since the adoption of the seventeenth amendment, to exclaim with the late David Bennett Hill, "I am a Democrat." A newspaper published in Washington established a sort of Nobel prize of its own. This enterprising sheet offered $50 to the reader who could furnish the very best excuse for announcing himself "a Demo crat." Now that Senator Heffin has broken his long silence by reading into the Record the prize definitions, any citizen can obtain, without postage, and under the senator's own rubber stamp, a little light on this abstruse question. It will be noted, however, that neither Dr. Taylor, of New Mexico, who was awarded first prize, nor Col. Edwin A. Halsey, the efficient and pulchritudinous confidential secretary of the minority in the Senate, mentions that the platform upon which Senator Edwards broke into the Senate, and on which "Al" Smith hopes to float into the White House, is an es sential portion of the springboard from which one may cast oneself into the whirling waters of the Democratic flood. Nothing is said to offend the most sensitive "dry" or the most shrinking "wet." Evidently the prize winners are foxy and prefer to take their Democracy straight

The Arizona health officer who gets the first prize has 50 extra dollars in his pocket be cause he thinks that-

A Democrat is one who believes in the fullest freedom of speech, press and re-ligion; the separation of church and state; laws that bear equally upon all classes without special privilege or monop-olistic advantage; rights of States guaranteed by the Constitution and less national paternalism.

Col. Halsey carried away the second prize with this succinct designation of "What is a

A Democrat is one who votes to adhere to the principles of the party as expounded by Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson, which assure personal liberty; freedom of religion, speech and press; equal justice, industry, fugality and happiness; abhorring corruption and privilege and preserving inviolate the republic in vigor and union.

If Sir Joseph Porter had been in position to compete he would surely have carried away the bacon, for his definition would doubtless have been, "One who always votes at his party's call and never thinks of thinking for himself at all." If that definition should become "official," what will become of the Democrats who voted to retain Senator Brookhart in his seat?

The Senate has agreed to the bill appropriating $550,000 for this fiscal year and a similar amount for four successive years to be expended jointly by the geological survey and the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of determining the location and extent of notash deposits in the United States and new and improved methods of recovering potash. When the 1922 tariff act was considered an effort was made to impose an import duty on potash in order to encourage the development of an American industry. It was agreed to in the House, and in a modified form in the Senate; but failed in conference. There is enough potash in the United States to supply domestic needs, if the industry is sufficiently encour-

"On what grounds do you want a new trial?" asked the Judge.

"Well, Your Honor," said Walthall, "it's on the grounds of newly discovered evidence."

"What is the nature of that evidence?" asked the Judge.

"Why, my client dug up $200 more that I didn't know he had. I am willing to split it with you, Judge, if you will grant him a new trial."

The judge sternly replied, "You go back and search him again, and if you can find $200 more I will take the case under advisement." [Contrict, 1926, the McNeught Syndicate, Inc.]

WIVES OF TOMORROW

One Overconfident Lover.

HOW TO KEEP WELL By DR. W. A. EVANS-

MY dear Miss McDonald—I have always read your letnow I am asking you for advice. I am a girl considered very attractive, with a good education, and good social position. Some time ago I fell in love, while away on a visit, with a man who seemed madly in love with me also. Since I have been back he has written to me every day, and his letters are usually very ardent—telling me of his great love for me. However, although his fare to this city would be less than a theater ticket, ters with great interest and would be less than a theater ticket, he has never come to see me, and at all times he has avoided the subject of matrimony. However, if I do not write him every day he writes a letter—so cold and sarcastic—that it is almost insulting. In one letter he asked me if I went to dances, &c., and whether I had a "steady" escort or not. I replied truthfully that I did go to dances sometimes, but not always with the same escort, would be less than a theater ticket, not always with the same escort, and that I felt no interest in any of my friends because I was in love with him. This brought an avalanche of sarcastic remarks and insinuations that have hurt me deeply. In a few days I expect a letter applogizing for his unreasonable actions and telling me that he loves me so much he was driven by jealousy—also a promise that he will never do it again—for it has happened before, just because one day I wrote a brief note for lack of time and promised him a self-confidence. It's a combination not always with the same escort, I've received a lot of very interesting letters and quite a few exceedingly thrilling ones—but I'm still strong for the direct approach idea. Of course if a man is on a hospital bed; or does not know where his next postage stamp is coming from, one day I wrote a brief note for lack of time and promised him a long letter the following day. EVALINA.

The revived dolman is very lovely and very smart, indeed. It has many slightly different forms, but the one sketched would seem an ideal choice for you because it isn't hard to make.

The material chosen is a soft gray-green kashmir with a collar in gray fox. A grosgrain hat in matching gray-green and dark green is smart, lightweight and practical because it packs easily and isn't so light that it we soil at once. Dairy Leaders Hurt Farmers, Is Claim

"The farmers in this country are being injured by the fight of the dairy leaders against margarine." A. M. Davis, representing Good Foods, Inc., of New York, told the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers, which convened at the Washington hotel yesterday. More than 90 per cent of the American margarine manufacturers were represented at the convention.

"Margarine is a valuable and wholesome addition to the daily diet." he added, "and is necessary to the growing population of the country. By the representations of the dairy leaders, the farmer is being placed in the public eye as a persecutor of an essential industry, he said, and this is largely responsible for the luke-warm attitude of the public toward the farmers ills.

ADDRESSES DEAL WITH WORK OF ORGANIZATIONS

Needs of Suburban Bodies Outlined; Promotion of Interests Is Urged.

Colored citizens' organizations constituting the Federation of Civic associations gave a banquet last night, at the Calvary parish hall, to Dr. George H. Richardson and George T. Beason, recently reelected to membership in the citizens' legislative advisory council. George Shaed was toastmaster. The address of welcome was made by the Rev. F. I. A. Bennett, of the Public Interest association of the Northeast.

Negro council members each received an ovation at the conclusion of addresses which discussed the issues of the day as related to advancement of civic, social and political welfare of colored citizens and their capacity for unified, intelligent, harmonious and constructive service in a common cause. Dr. Baltimore, Md., April 15 (By A. P.).—Gov. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, vigorously defended his State visory council to that body, all of which had been approved. A spe-"Eyery one concedes the great-mess of Virginia's past," the Vir-ginia governor said, after expressing trend of development of the coun-the assertion that we have been perhaps too slow to progress and that we have lived too much in the past."

The voice of outside criticism had spurred Virginia on to develop her great resources, Gov. Byrd declared.

"I was not resentful of a frank analysis of our faults, for diagnosis of a disease must precede its treatment, but I did resent and do now condemn criticism of the Virginia of today that does not recognize what she has accomplished and the great difficulties under which she has won her way back to prosperity," Virginia's chief executive asserted.

Declaring that 60 years ago Virginia had suffered more than did

BRISK UPTURN FOLLOWS STOCKS' SINKING SPELL

Nearly All Issues Share in Rally After Scores Record New Lows.

CALL FUNDS 41/4 PER CENT

Special to The Washington Post. New York, April 15.—The most vigorous upturn of the current week In the stock market occurred in the last hour of trading on the New York Stock Exchange today on short covering and buying "for a turn."
It followed a further sinking spell through the forenoon on selling, largely professional in character, that left the impression it was done as a technical maneuver to facilitate repurchasing of stocks that had been sold for the fall and the subsequent action of the market tended fo confirm that view.

The turnover approximated
1.400,000 shares but there was again a minimum of public interest. Virtually all of the active stocks participated in the late rally, with leadership vested in General Electric. United States Steel common, and Woolworth, and the first named closed 41/2 points net higher. The upturn carried quotations of many other shares well above the previous closing levels, but a considerable number of other stocks still showed, number of other stocks still showed, at the close, net losses on the day ranging up to 5 points or so.

More than a score of stocks had registered new low prices for the year on the forenoon reaction, among them steel and General Elecamong them steel and General Elec-tific, so that the rebound in the lat-ter amounted to more than 8 points at one time. The heaviest selling continued to converge on the motor and sugar shares, the latter group jnaking but indifferent response to the reports from Cuba that the gov-ernment had approved a plan pro-viding for restriction of the sugar crop, as at best the relief which such measures might afford would not be measures might afford would not be

Automobile stocks reflected once more the pessimism among profes-sional speculators over reports that spring sales of cars were not up to expectations. Most members of this group. however, came back well in the late dealings, more than regain-ing their earlier losses. Pierce-Arrow preferred was an exception, recovering 31/2 points from the new low level of the year, but closing 4

Some of the rails showed moderate recessions at the finish, but hearly all closed up somewhat from the midseason lows. Lackawanna, however, ended the day 3½ points net lower. Norfolk & Western lost Peckinpaugh Waiting For Warmer Weather Before He'll Play.

Goslin Is Regaining Batting Eye; Lefty Thomas Improves.

By FRANK H. YOUNG. ANAGER HARRIS is much pleased with the progress Roger Peckinpaugh is showing and intimated yesterday that the veteran shortstop would take his place in the Nat line-up the first warm day. The various injuries the old-timer has received in the game from time to time have it. the old-timer has received in the game from time to time have, it seems, started some of his joints to creaking and the sap does not start flowing in them until Old Sol is at his best. With Myer showing up well. Bucky has figured that he could kill two birds with one stone—let the veteran take things easy during the present cold spell and give Buddy a chance to get more used to working around second with the boy manager.

The former New Orleans rookie has made errors in his last two games, it is true, but these have not lessened Harris' confidence in him one iota, according to the boy manager. Bucky admits, however that his team is stronger with Peck in there doing business at his old stand and intends to make the shift just as soon as Washington gets a taste of warmer weather.

ECAUSE of the unseason-BECAUSE of the unseasonable weather of yesterday,

Post to Give Race Results by Numbers; Fans Call Main 7363 for Speedy Service

The Washington Post, with an aim to simplifying and facilitating its service to racing fans, tomorrow will inaugurate a plan to give all results over the telephone by numbers corresponding to those to be published with the entries. A staff of operators at MAIN 7363 will dispense the racing information.

This system carries many features, chief of which are the facts that it avoids any similarity of names and renders speedier service.

Starting tomorrow, all entries in the Post will be preceded by numbers. Following is an example showing the first race to be run at Havre De Grace today:

Boys, Bring Your Gloves Tomorrow; Get Balls From Nats at Post's Treat

Tomorrow morning at 9:30 a number of the most popular members of the Washington Baseball team will be at the Monument lot, No. 3, to meet their boy friends.

Twenty-five American league baseballs provided by The Washington Post will be batted out by Bucky Harris, Walter Johnson and others of the team. The lucky boys catching these balls will not only meet the Washington players and have their pictures taken with them, but will have the privilege of having the balls autographed by any Washington player they may desire and be entitled to keep it

Be sure to bring your glove and tell all of your boy friends about it. It will be a day to be remembered.

THE cold and chilly weather of yesterday seemed to have just the opposite effect on the Nationals and Athletics in the third game of the 1926 season. Harris' henchmen seemed to be muscle-bound when it came to swinging their bats, while they got five errors out of their systems, which should make them mechanically pure for several days to come. The Macks, on the other hand, suddenly woke up from the two-day sleep they have been enjoying and pounded out an easy 9 to 3 victory.

Joe Bush, Alexander Ferguson and Curley Ogden all took turns on the local hill, and all apparently looked alike to the Clan of McGullicuddy, who pounded out fourteen safeties, including six extra-base ones, and were set down in order in only one inning.

I T simply was not a Washington day. Connie Mack's eye lit on Stan Baumgartner when he was casting around for his mound starter, and in the third the Harrismen showed their only batting life of the day, pounding the southpaw of the hill.

Joe Pate, another who hurls with the wrong arm, relieved him, and the 31-year-old rookie from Fort Worth granted but two hits over the balance of the route.

To hear the Nats tell it. "He never had a thing but a measly little knuckle ball," but, nevertheless, he turned them back almost as fast as they came to the tee for 62-3

There was no competition in the affair after the third stanza. Bush arrair after the third stanza. Bush was in hot water from the start, due to his wildness, and a walk to Bishop, first up, was turned into a run when followed by two outs, each of which advanced Max a base, and Simmons' single.

Claim on Grange

Settled for $750

Chicago, April 15 (By A. P.).
Harold "Red" Grange was thrown for a loss today when he settled with his former Wheaton neighbor, Archie H. Schatz, otherwise known as Johnny Small, a vaudeville actor, for $750. The settlement was made out of court.
Schatz sued the football hero on claims that he first saw the possibilities in Grange and signed as his first manager last August. Grange subsequently selected C. C. Pyle.

Extra First Baseman

Cincinnati, April 15 (By A. P.).
Jimmy Hudgens, recruit first base most discouraging game to watch. The A's had men on the paths in every frame except the last, and covered the champs like a tent. For the latter, from the fourth to the eighth it was simply a case of three up and three down. Round eight saw Goslin's single wasted, while one by Bluege in the ninth went for naught. Myer was given life on blishop's fumble in this frame, but this pair died on the sacks watching Severeid, Pinch Ritter Jeanes and Rice do nothing at all.

The Sagamore stable's Montferrat, with Coltiletti up, made a show of his field in the first race at six furlongs. Swept finished three lengths behind the foreign-bred colt, with Her Own, in the colors of Admiral Carey T. Grayson, and a first starter, though a 3-year-old, third. Dubric, the favorite, was a trailer, although J. F. Richardson had changed from Beach to McAtee as his rider.

Billy Mann raced Jacques into submission and came on to win the sixth race by a nose from Grand Bey, the latter having moved up on the outside in the stretch to make the closest finish of the day. Ivy, an outsider, was third. Jacques was used up in the first mile of the journey by Madera, who handled him badly.

VRE DE GRACE, April 15. 3-year-olds, at 5 ½ furlongs, with twelve entered. NAT EVANS, on his Bowie form, looks a shade the best. He ran second to Timmara over at the Hillop course, after beating a good field. While he is beating a good field. While he is best in the mud, he can run well on any kind of track. He probably will find SON AMI the contender. The last named has not been out in a long time, but is known to be in good shape. At his best, he probably could beat NAT EVANS. AUCILLA will be close up. She showed a good performance last week, and ought to get third. ORESTES II, WELSHOT and several others may

WELSHOT and several others may be extremely dangerous. ORESTES II, foreignbred, has caught the eye of the clockers. The most spectacular race will be the first, with sixteen 2-year-olds listed to start. The Harry Payne Whitney entry of PYREX and FRESCO is selected to win. Last out PYREX had little showing, but out PYREX had little showing, but finished very fast to be second, and with good racing luck should earn brackets here. She came close to duplicating the last minute rush of Miniator, and was beaten a nose. FRESCO is a highly bred filly, by Peter Pan—Paint Brush, which has not started. J. K. L. Ross has a first starter in this race named SAMARA, by Marathon, which may be the contender. This one may be the contender. This one may be as good as Landlord, the first son of Boniface, which won in a sensational manner from Golden Pennant opening day of this meet ing. CLUB STEAK, a Meridian filly of J. P. Jones, which is coupled with Lena Rinehart, is picked for third money.

The second race also is likely to be in doubt until the numbers go LEATHERWOOD has been running in poor form, and many contend that he is not the horse he formerly was, yet he occasionally beats a good field, and does so debeats a good neid, and does so de-cisively. On his looks, his Bowie efforts may be thrown out and he may be relied upon to improve. He will have MISS ROSEDALE to beat. JOHNNY CAMPBELL, on his two winning efforts, cannot be over-looked. A Mackian single and triple went to waste in the sixth; otherwise the visitors would have coined another run. Bishop opened with a one-shot, but was caught stealing. Lamar then came through with a three-bagger and was left, as Fergu-son fanned French and forced Sim-mons to loft to Rice.

The fact that Bluege was charged with two errors practically on one play in the seventh caused considplay in the seventh caused considerable discussion in the press box. Hauser was on first when Perkins attempted a sacrifice toward third. Ossie fumbled the ball and then pegged badly, Hauser completing the circuit. The official scorer ruled that the fumble gave Cy life and the had beave then advanced. and the bad heave then advanced the runners. This is unusual, but seems to be a fair interpretation, as each miscue did lots of damage.

SOME LIBERTY BONDS AT YEAR'S NEW HIGHS

French Loans Are Under Pressure; Sugar Liens Weaken Further.

MOST PRICES ARE FIRM

New York, April 15 (By the Associated Press).—Selling of French obligations inspired by the fall in the franc to a new low level for all time and the continued weakness of sugar company issues featured today's bond trading. Prices elsewhere maintained a firm tone, with the demand for investment bonds stimulated by the rise in several Libertys to the highest prices of the

There were no developments in the day's news to account for the weakness of French bonds and exchange. Recently improvement had been based on indications that a balanced budget was assured by new legislation and that substantial progress had been made on a plan to raise funds for debt reduction by voluntary contributions. Most of the selling in the currency originated abroad, with the psychological effect of the record low rate causing some uneasiness among bondhold-ers. Declines in the government obligations were limited to frac-tions, but some of the rail issues lost a paint or more lost a point or more.

Liquidation of sugar company liens was based on the fear that restriction of the Cuban output would react unfavorably on current earnings, although most of the au-thorities in the trade agreed that the move was not without its ad-vantages. This belief was reflected vantages. This belief was reflected in higher prices for the commodity, but it failed to check selling of these bonds, which embraced Cuban Dominican. Camaguey. Eastern Cuba, Cuba Cane, South Porto Rico, Manati, Sugar Estates of the Oriente, and Warner issues.

Price movements of domestic rails and public utilities were somewhat conflicting, although a firmwhat conflicting.

rais and public utilities were somewhat conflicting, although a firm undertone prevailed. Illinois Central refunding 5s advanced almost four points, and Atchison adjustment 4s more than a point to a new ton price for the years.

ment 4s more than a point to a new top price for the year. Local traction issues also worked into higher ground. Northern Pacific 5s, "Big Four" 5s and Southern Pacific collateral 4s were heavy.

Public offering will be made by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. tomorrow of $17,030,000 Pennsylvania Railroad equipment trust 4½ per cent certificates at a price of 98%. The bends will mature in equal installments in from three to fifteen years. The $15,000,000 issue of 15-year 6 per cent debentures for Loew's, Inc., theater chain owners, which was withheld from the market today, also will be offered tomorrow at a price of 99½.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, April 15 (By the Associated Press). A break of 69 points in Ford Motors of Canada to 506 on odd lot transactions of less than 250 shares actured today's irregular curb market. Selling of this stock, which sold as high as 655 earlier in the year is believed to represent liquidation of the small holders who were disappointed by the apparent failure of the person of the present liquidation of the person o ago.

Trading today was in unusually small volume, the day's sales aggregating only about 215,000 shares. The tape was silent, at intervals, for minutes at a time.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, April 15 (By A. P.).— The cotton market was easier today owing to prospect for more favorable weather for the start of the new crop in the South. May contracts sold off from 18.98 to 18.80, and October from 17.46 to 17.38, the market closing steady at net declines of 9 to 13 points.

17.46 to 17.38, the market closing steady at net declines of 9 to 13 points.

The opening was steady at an adjuste of 1 point to a decline of 2 coints. Near months were a shade figher on further covering and overnight buying inspired by yesterday's report on domestic mill consumption and rumors that British spinners were beginning to run short of supplies. The initial demand was soon supplied and the market turned casier on the official forecast for fair and warmer weather in the South-Westman and the market turned casier on the official forecast for fair and warmer weather in the South-Westman and the market turned casier on the official forecast for fair and warmer weather in the South-Westman and the market turned casier on the official forecast for fair and warmer weather in the period of the followed have more favorable conditions was passing castward, and that cool weather in the Lastern belt tonight would probably be atward, and that cool weather in the lastern belt tonight would probably be followed aby more favorable conditions generally.

The detailed weather reports for the day confirmed the talk of low temperatures in the belt last night, but showed comparatively little precipitation, and while prices held a rely steady around midday, they weakened again in later trading. The close was within a point or 2 of the lowest. Much of the day's business was in switching from near to late months with exchanges reported of both May and July for new crop positions in late trading was attributed partly to reports that cotton was affected in the day of the day to see the day of the day to reports that cotton was affecting a little more freely in some leastern belt markets at the lowest Lasis of the season.

Exports for the day, 14,985 bales, making 6,760,515 so far this season.

Per receipts, 15,881; U. S. port stocks, 1113,992.

The conditions of this offer are:

delivery of the car must have been made by the advertiser; the purchaser must be some one other than an employe; the name Ford Roadster...... 250 and address of the purchaser together with the name and model of car bought and copy of the advertisement in which the car in question was offered for sale must be furnished Si Grogan, Automobile Editor, The Washington Post, who upon presentation of the above facts will issue to the purchaser the order for 10 gallons of gas.

GUESS? GUESS?

GUESS?

Can you judge "Used Car" Values?

If so, here is an opportunity to test your skill. Pick out of the list below any car in which question marks take the place of the year and price. Then come into our showroom, examine the car and make a "guess" as to the price you believe we have it listed

The person making the nearest "guess" will be entitled to the privilege of purchasing that particular car at one-half of the amount of the listed price.

The listed price is a matter of record with representatives of The Post, Star and Times-Herald. They will act as the sole judges.

Arrangements have been made so that your "guess' will be registered with one of these representatives.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

WALTER A. BROWN,

MOVEMENT BEGUN TO RELIEVE OWNERS OF STREET UPKEEP

to Get Congress to Act at This Session.

How to relieve property owners of the burden imposed on them for street paving and resurfacing by the Bordland amendment was the subject of a conference yesterday in the office of Engineer Commissioner J. Franklin Bell. Represen tatives of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and two citizens' associations took part.

The conferees were unanimous in wanting the amendment repealed entirely. Col. Bell told them he thought Congress would not do that entirely and that he believed

The Borland amendment provides that half the cost of paving or resurfacing streets shall be levied by special assessment against abutting property, where benefits equal to damages can be found.

The Borland amendment provides a settlement of the time accordance of the end of the control of

Proposals for New Bill.

It was agreed that Col. Bell should have a bill prepared proposing to change it so that it would apply only to original pavement of streets and not to resurfacing.

Francis F. Gillen, of the Charles H. Tompkins Building Co., which employs sixteen of the strikers, declared last night that nonunion men could easily be found to replace the men.

"The work requires very little with the charles H. Tompkins Building Co., which employs sixteen of the charles H. Tompkins Building Co., which employs sixteen of the Charles H. of streets and not to resurfacing, and that in the case of outlying, unsubdivided property, no assessment should exceed 20 per cent of the assessed value of a strip 100 feet deep along the street to be paved.

Arthur E. Seymour, representing, with W. C. Balderston, the Board of Trade, expressed the opinion that Congress would have to be given a new source of revenue to replace the special assessments if the latter were to be abolished or reduced. He suggested paving all streets out of general taxation revenues. Another speaker suggested taxing motor trucks and motor buses. Another proposed adding a cent a gallow.

motor trucks and motor ouses. Another proposed adding a cent a gallon to the gasoline tax.

When the bill has been drafted it will be submitted to the organizations represented for discussion. view to revision until an
